HOW TO USE THESE TEMPLATES

- READY TO USE templates can be sent with minimal customisation — fill in the bracketed fields and send.
- Personalise every message. Replace [INSTITUTION NAME], [PERSON'S NAME], [THEIR TITLE], and [SPECIFIC DETAIL] with accurate, researched information.
- Never send generic messages. If you cannot find a specific detail about the institution to reference, research further before sending.
- Follow up persistently but respectfully. Government executives receive many messages. It typically takes 3–5 touchpoints to get a response.
- Tone guidance: Professional, consultative, confident. You are a peer offering expertise, not a vendor begging for attention.

> I am not writing to sell you anything today. I would simply welcome a 20-minute conversation to understand how [INSTITUTION NAME] currently manages its board governance, and to share what we are seeing across the sector.

> Would you be open to a brief call at your convenience?

- Streamlining Board Governance at [INSTITUTION NAME]
- Digital Board Management — A Conversation for [INSTITUTION NAME]
- Mwongozo Compliance and Digital Governance

Dear [TITLE] [SURNAME],

I am writing to introduce myself and to explore whether a brief conversation about digital board governance would be useful to you and your team at [INSTITUTION NAME].

My name is [YOUR NAME], and I lead [YOUR ROLE] at Losvinca, a Kenyan technology company that has developed E-Board — a purpose-built digital platform for board governance.

E-Board was designed specifically for the governance requirements of Kenyan public institutions. It supports the full board management lifecycle:

- Meeting management — a structured 10-stage workflow from meeting initiation through to minutes capture, including automated notice distribution with 10-day advance notice compliance*
- Board papers — multi-stage review (officer preparation, director review, CEO approval) with version control, annexures, and recall capability*
- Conflict of interest — OTP-verified digital declarations with signature capture and an auditable register exportable as PDF and CSV*
- Audit trail — comprehensive logging of every system action with old and new values, user identification, and IP tracking*
- Document repository — secure, access-controlled storage with download tracking and three visibility levels*
- Board member profiles — complete records including qualifications, gazette notices, CVs, and profile completeness scoring*
- White-label branding — your institution's identity, logos, and colours throughout the platform*

The platform is built on a robust, modern technology stack and is accessible via web browser, with an iPad-optimised portal for board members.

I appreciate that your time is valuable, and I am not seeking a lengthy meeting. I would welcome a 20-minute conversation — either in person or by phone — to understand your current board management process and to share how institutions similar to [INSTITUTION NAME] are approaching digital governance.

Would any time in the next two weeks be suitable?

Yours faithfully,

[YOUR NAME] [YOUR TITLE] Losvinca Tel: [PHONE NUMBER] Email: [EMAIL ADDRESS] [WEBSITE URL]

MESSAGING PRINCIPLES

1. Lead with governance, not technology. Corporation Secretaries care about compliance, efficiency, and risk — not about Laravel or MySQL.
2. Be specific about their institution. Generic messages get ignored. Reference their sector, their governance challenges, their regulatory obligations.
3. Respect their intelligence. These are senior professionals. Do not over-explain. Do not use marketing hyperbole.
4. Be patient. Government decision-making takes time. Persistence with respect earns trust.
5. Never disparage their current process. Even if they are using paper and WhatsApp, respect that it has worked for them so far. Position E-Board as an improvement, not a criticism.
6. Offer value before asking for anything. Share an article, a governance insight, a compliance tip. Then ask for a conversation.
7. Always propose a specific next step. Never end a message with "Let me know." Always suggest a specific action: "Would Tuesday or Wednesday work for a 20-minute call?"
